

New Product in UK – FSC Certified Fired Oak from Urbane Living

IMMEDIATE RELEASE

London, July 1, 2008 – Urbane Living added new Fired Oak to their wood flooring range.

The timbers have been steam heated without chemicals or preservatives to create a rich dark tone with a hint of red that runs through to the core of the wood. The process also reduces the moisture content of the timber offering significant improvement on the stability and durability of the floor.

The Fired Oak range comes in a high spec with wide long planks in a variety of finishes. Available in Prime Grade, Fired Oak can create a strong and dramatic impact in any interior. They are suitable for both residential and commercial applications.

The raw material is sourced from sustainable forests with the chain of custody covered by the FSC certification system ensuring the timber is from a sustainable source. Price starts from £67m2 ex. VAT.
